Descriptions are based on the standard terms used widely in the book trade:

Mint: As new (generally in original cellophane wrapping)
Fine: No defect in book or dustjacket, but not as crisp as a new book
Very good: Very light wear with no large tears or major defects
Good: Average used condition with some defects, as described.
Fair: A "reading copy" with major defects; we offer these free for postage costs.

"Wrappers" = paper covers. If this term is not included, the book is hardbound.

"dj" = dustjacket (or "dustwrapper").

"ex-lib" = library book with the usual marks

All titles are in very good-fine condition unless noted otherwise. More detailed information on condition can be supplied upon request. Publications may be returned for any reason in the original carton for a full refund of the purchase price plus media mail shipping costs.
